Although familiar in Eastern and Southern Asia, Sambal is traditional Indonesian condiment that you will find in almost all Indonesian Cuisine. The main ingredient of Sambal is chili, usually crushed to release the spicy flavor, then combined evenly with shrimp paste. One of the most popular condiment in Bali is Sambal Matah, made from onion, chili, shrimp paste, lemongrass and lime leaf with a dash of lime juice. Sambal Matah that literally means raw condiment will make your fish, chicken or any other dishes even more mouthwatering.
